Abuse of all kinds not only injures the survivor psychologically, the soul and spirit are assaulted as well. This experiential presentation will help participants learn how to identify the spiritual wounds of their clients, and provide a road-map for healing and transforming this soul trauma through a spiritual healing process. The work presented is based in clinical experience of integrating psychological and spiritual treatment processes with survivors of abuse and trauma.

PATRICK FLEMING is a psychotherapist and licensed clinical social worker (L.C.S.W.) in private practice in St. Louis, MO. He also has a Master of Divinity degree (M.Div.) and years of pastoral experience as a hospital chaplain. In his counseling work, he has extensive experience working with survivors of abuse. He also is a certified sexual addiction therapist.

SUE LAUBER-FLEMING is a psychotherapist and licensed clinical social worker (M.A., L.C.S.W.) in private practice in St. Louis, MO. Sue is also a psychiatric nurse (R.N.) and has had extensive pastoral experience as a hospital chaplain and chaplain supervisor.

Together with Vicki Schmidt they co-authored both 'Shattered Soul' and 'Broken Trust' in which they share their own stories of psychological and spiritual healing from childhood clerical abuse.
